ABOUT THE COMPOSER

Matt Conaway (b. 1979) is an Assistant Professor of Bands at Purdue University in West Lafayette, IN. He serves as Associate Director of the famed "All-American" Marching Band, directs the University Concert Band and Varsity Band, assists with the basketball pep bands as a director and staff arranger, and is the department's technical coordinator. Prior to this appointment, he served for ten years as the Director of Bands for the West Lafayette Community School Corporation, during which time the program received many state and national accolades for musical excellence.

His compositions for band range from very beginning through very advanced, based on his experience working with all levels of performers in grades 5-12. Matt is also an accomplished arranger, and has written for athletic bands at Indiana University, Purdue University, and many high schools throughout the Midwest. His arrangements have been heard on the national stage at multiple bowl games and college basketball tournaments since 1999.

After graduating from Woodhaven (MI) High School in 1997, he attended Indiana University – Bloomington, where he studied arranging with David Woodley. He received his Bachelor of Music Education with Distinction in 2001, and earned a Masters of Music degree from the American Band College of Sam Houston State University in 2010. Matt has been granted honorary membership in Tau Beta Sigma and Kappa Kappa Psi, and was recently inducted into the Gamma Chapter of Phi Beta Mu. He is also a member of NAfME, NBA, Indiana Music Educators Association, Indiana Bandmasters Association, and ASCAP. He is in demand as a clinician and adjudicator at concert band festivals and competitions throughout the Midwest.

PROGRAM NOTES

I was honored to compose and conduct a work for the Festival of Bands in southwest Indiana. This consortium of seven high schools has been gathering for 25 years to share their musical gifts with each other in a massed band setting. The commission was no doubt going to be a celebratory work, so I decided to write festive themes. When all was done, I had everything except a title that fit the piece, so I put it on the students of these schools to name "their" piece. After discussion, it was determined that the new piece reminded them of knights, castles, and medieval festivals, and the name "Dance of Chivalry" rose to the top. I always appreciate it when students are more creative than I am, because in this case, they definitely got it right. Their title fits the piece well, and I am grateful to them for coming up with it and for presenting the first performance of this work!

REHEARSAL SUGGESTIONS

The "dashed slurs" in some parts indicate no breath at that location. Usually these are found at the ends of phrases where instinct would be to breathe there.

M. 113: Be cautious to control the tempo. There is a tendency to rush this, which causes tremendous difficulty at m. 183.

M. 212: Make sure the 1st flute note change is clearly pronounced.

Last note: Play one full quarter note value to establish this chord. Otherwise, some of the 16ths in the previous measures will still be resonating and could distort the harmony in the concert hall.

PERCUSSION NOTES

This was written for an extremely large percussion section, and there are ten independent lines in the writing. Rock-solid players are needed on the following parts:

- o Timpani
- o Snare Drum
- o Triangle
- o Xylophone

Most other parts can be omitted as personnel warrants.

I suggest you provide your timpanist some advance warning on this part. M. 183 to the end in particular will take some careful preparation for sticking.

The muted triangle part is accomplished with wrapping a layer of masking tape around one side of the triangle (don't wrap the entire side, just the width of the tape itself). While it is technically possible to simply use standard triangle technique to play that part on a single instrument, it's a pretty relentless string of 8th notes at a very fast tempo.
