PROGRAM NOTE

Something is there on the horizon. Is it a group of dragons ready to set the countryside ablaze? Is it a group of orcs spoiling for a fight with the knights of the realm? Could it be the Viking horde coming to pillage the land? The decision is yours in this exciting piece by F. Scott Kroll for the developing band.

NOTES TO CONDUCTOR

Careful attention to the dynamics as marked will help develop a sense of excitement and assist in the overall balance of the ensemble. Particular care should be taken in the introduction to maintain a soft dynamic level so the band will have room to crescendo when needed. It is especially important not to let the percussion overbalance the winds.

Anytime a melodic line is introduced, give dynamic priority to the line with most recent entrance. This is especially important in sections where multiple lines occur simultaneously (ex. measures 9 and 44).

The woodwind ostinato beginning at measure 24 should be balanced as to feature the contrary motion present between the clarinets and saxophones.

Thank you for programming Down From The North. I hope you and your students enjoy your journey through this piece and find it musically rewarding as well as fun to play. I look forward to many more adventures with you in the future!
